

Jocelyn Angelone – D16

For nearly the last two years, I have worked in Bronxville as the Office Manager of Christ Church, Young at Arts and Eliza Corwin Frost (previously a Teacher Assistant). I am in charge of all the accounting and some of the budgeting functions. In addition, I volunteer for the Community Fund as an evaluator. This year was my third year helping the Community Fund.

Previously, I was heavily involved with the PTA of Bronxville and served as Treasurer for two non-consecutive years, treasurer and data coordinator for the two previous PTA benefits, ran numerous events including the Book Fair, Used Book Sale, and Family Events. I was also one of the Class Chairs for many years in the Elementary School. I was the Treasurer and President of the Westchester Interclub Golf League for four years and held numerous Board Positions at Wykagyl Golf Club.

I know the community well and continue to meet people of all ages while walking my dog through the village. With my daughter at Holy Child, I have a different view on how other schools are governed.

Wendy Halley D-16

Wendy Halley and her husband John have lived in Bronxville for over 5 years, and have three children attending the Bronxville School. Wendy has been an active volunteer with Bronxville School PTA as well as within the community, having recently joined the board of The Community Fund.

Wendy is an attorney and business development executive, currently acting as a consultant for media and tech companies. She received her JD from New York University School of Law and her undergraduate degree from the University of California, Berkeley. After practicing at Skadden Arps and Morrison & Foerster, she worked in-house at an artist & music management company and then spent over a decade at Yahoo leading its media legal transactions team and in business development.

Wendy states "I am committed to supporting our school in its pursuit of excellence, and believe that serving on the NPC will enable me to contribute to that goal and to our community in general."

Michael Ching D-17

Over the two years that my family and I have lived in Bronxville, I have familiarized myself with the various wonderful organizations around town by speaking with current, as well as former members of these organizations and attending a wide variety of events. The NPC's mission stood out to me because of my interest in education.

When I was a student, I regularly participated in student government, to gain the opportunity to work with the administration to understand how organizational, curriculum, and resource decisions are made. Now that my wife and I have children of our own, I have enjoyed researching various childhood teaching methods, which led us to enroll our children in Waldorf and Montessori preschools. I hope that through the NPC, I can continue to learn more about my children's education system.

The NPC's mission to ultimately nominate a slate of qualified candidates to the Bronxville School Board is aligned with my interest in ensuring the children in our community have the best possible education programs available to them. I have attended two Bronxville school board meetings in person, in addition to watching several online and appreciate the responsibility the trustees assume in their roles. I would like to support the efforts of the school board by helping to identify and vet exceptional nominees to successfully serve the school.

Elizabeth Kiehner -D18

Kiehner thrives at the intersection of technology, design and customer experience, building exceptional teams, nurturing client relationships, and inspiring what's to come. Envisions the future and guides people there through change management, communications, re-skilling, and cultural transformation.

An evangelist for digital reinvention and agile transformation this former entrepreneur can speak to both the enterprise and start-up worlds. With origins as a filmmaker, Kiehner created How the Economic Machine Works for Ray Dalio and spent the first half of her career leading transformative initiatives in media and entertainment.

She currently heads the Digital Transformation Office for Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center.

Shelly Klose D-19

My interest in public school education dates back to my early childhood. Growing up, my father served as the Executive Director of the California State Board of Education, the agency that was responsible for developing curriculum in all K-12 public schools throughout the state.

Since moving to Bronxville in 2011, I've always found the role and mission of the NPC to be an important voice in our community when helping to shape the future of the school board. Now that I will have three kids in the school, it feels like the right time to try to contribute to the committee in a meaningful way and not as a passive, outside viewer.

As a parent of three students who are still at the beginning of their Bronxville School journey, I would welcome the opportunity to be a part of the NPC and hopefully leverage some of these outside experiences to the committee. Given the unprecedented times we live in today with COVID-19, now more than ever the mission of the NPC is so incredibly important to our school.

Eleya Whittingham D-20

I am interested in continuing to contribute to my community and get involved with and informed about The Bronxville School now that my oldest child has joined as a student. I would also like to meet new people and involve myself in a stimulating activity that is not directly related to caring for small children. The mission of the NPC is very interesting and I think I would enjoy being involved.

Chris O'Gorman D-21

Chris has lived in Bronxville since 1997. He currently has three children who attend Bronxville schools - one in sixth grade and twins in fifth grade. Chris has been active in coaching various sports, Cub Scouts, and the Bronxville Skating Club. As a volunteer at many events at the Bronxville School, Chris has an intense interest in keeping the Bronxville School an excellent educational school system, which led to his interest in the NPC. Professionally Chris has experience as a senior executive in the financial services industry.

Gail Solomon D-22

As a relatively new resident of the Bronxville community, I would like to become involved in civic affairs where my experience as an educator may be useful. I am well aware of the excellent reputation of the Bronxville schools and would like to participate in any way I can to perpetuate the Bronxville legacy.

My husband and I lived in a condominium community in Roslyn for 20 years. I served as President of the Board for five years and was a board member for an additional eight years. I was a member of the Old Westbury Racquet Club for 15 years.

I spent the majority of my career as a speech-language pathologist in the Mamaroneck Public Schools. Before that, I worked as a speech therapist for the Caritas School for the Deaf in Rockville Centre Long Island. In my career in the public schools, I was involved in numerous committees that coordinated regular education and special education.

Erin Lovett D-22

I am currently VP/Director of Publicity at the book publishing company W.W. Norton & Company. I have been a member of the publicity department for 17 years and work with many bestselling authors, including Neil deGrasse Tyson, Mary Roach, Diane Ackerman, and Amanda Hesser.

I'm interested in being more involved in the Bronxville School's selection process. My daughters will be entering 5th Grade next year, and because we are committed to being part of the school system through their entire elementary, middle school, and high school years, I want to help make the best decisions possible for the school. I am also eager to connect with more community members.

